As it Was and Now.

Hyde Park is situated in the eastern part of Norfolk county and is about seven miles from the State House in Boston. It was incorporated as a town in 1868, and although the advisability of becoming a city has been often discussed, a majority of the inhabitants never approved the plan. The town contains 2800 acres, of which about 200 acres are devoted to streets and avenues, and there are about 1700 houses. The population of the place according to the state census of 1895 was 11,826, and it is now about 13,000. The Neponset River flows through the easterly part of the town and forms a natural boundary line between Hyde Park and Milton. East of the river the land rises rather abruptly and forms what is known as Fairmount Heights, where the pioneers of the town built their homes. The place is divided into several districts and although they have been given distinctive names, they form as a whole a compact and attractive community. These suburbs are known as Readville, Sunnyside, Fairmount, Rugby, Oakwood Park, Clarendon Hills, Hazelwood and Pinehurst.

Hyde Park is a town of today and its history will compare favorably with those of similar communities. During the 30 years of its existence changes have been constantly taking place, and the march of improvement has left its imprint on the community. The first board of selectmen, which was elected after a spirited contest, consisted of Zenas Allen, B. F. Radford, Henry Grew, W. J. Stuart and M. L. Whitcher, and its inauguration was made a holiday occasion, the event being celebrated by a salute of 100 guns, general rejoicing and a display of fireworks. A beautiful rainbow which appeared at sunset was regarded as a propitious omen promising a bright future for the young town.

During the years that have passed the growth of Hyde Park has been steady and substantial. The financial panic of 1873 was felt very keenly here, but its effects gradually wore away. In 1886 occurred the flood when the Neponset river increased to many times its usual size and power by falling rains and melting snow, overflowed its banks causing great destruction of property and endangering many lives.

The town's valuation according to the latest reports is $9,966,615, an increase in the last 10 years of over $3,000,000. The tax rate at the present time is $17.00 on $1000.

There are at present about 30 corporations employing nearly 2500 hands and paying-out in wages annually about $900,000, the output being valued at about $4,000,000. The capital invested exceeds $2,000,000. The town is well supplied with water power and freight rates are comparatively low. It has excellent railroad facilities, both steam and electrics, and is well lighted by electricity and gas. Its streets are well laid out and are carefully attended to.

The schools are among the best and the churches are numerous and influential. The fire department is well equipped and effective, and the town has a well disciplined and reliable police force. There are two well conducted weekly newspapers, the Norfolk County Gazette and the Hyde Park Times, both of which are well supported. There is no limit to the secret, benevolent and social societies.

Its ship of state has sailed safely through all its doubtful periods and has obtained an honorable position in the Commonwealth. There seems to remain no reason why in the years to come the town should not grow in wealth and importance. It is desirable as a place of residence, is well situated and possesses many natural advantages which render it desirable as an abiding place.

J. F. H., Cambridge, Mass.—A sprain such as you describe is not incurable. Use Tuttle's Elixir.

Horseman, Elgin, Ill.—There is only one sure way of escaping a lameness. Apply Tuttle's Elixir, and it will remain moist on the part affected.

Mrs. F. S. T., Richmond, Va.—If you can find a case of colic that Tuttle's Elixir will not cure, it will entitle you to the $100 reward offered by Dr. Tuttle.

Wilbut S. Davis, M.D., Alton, N. H., writes:

"To whom it may concern:—This certifies that my horse, on the twentieth day of January, ran away with a hitching post and injured her knees so badly that she was pronounced worthless by several horse doctors. I tried various remedies for six weeks and she grew worse. I at length used Tuttle's Elixir, and in three weeks from the time I commenced to use it I had her on the road ready for work. The knees healed so nicely that it is difficult to find the scars."

DR. S. A. TUTTLE.

DEAR SIR: I write a few lines to tell you the Elixir came safely and promptly. I received it last Saturday. On opening the box I was much surprised and pleased to find you had presented me an extra bottle. I thank you very much, and I assure you your kindness is appreciated. I will tell you about the sore on my foot which I cured with your Elixir: A few winters ago I was at work in my wood lot getting out logs; the rubber boot I wore galled and chafed my foot, and I found it had made a large blister. I did not pay much attention to it, thinking it would soon heal of itself; but it did not, and became a troublesome sore. I then did all I could to cure it, but with no avail; it pained me severely. I showed it to a doctor, and he said it had become an ulcer, and was eating its way to the bone. I went frequently to have it burned out, still it got no better. I began to think, I might after a time have to have my toe amputated. The sore was on my great toe. One day I chanced to think of the little sample bottle of Elixir I had, I put some on, it seemed to help it and I used up the rest on it and completely cured the sore. It has never troubled me since, but my toe looks as if a piece had been cut off. I suppose the ulcer ate it away. It was many months from the time it was hurt till it was well. I was rejoiced when it was cured, and you may know your Elixir is well recommended by me.

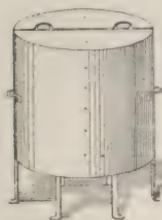

Very sincerely yours

Whether for cooking or lighting purposes the gas maintains a high standard of excellence. The superintendent, J. R. Todd, has recently added to the facilities the Welsbach light. One of these gives as much light, if not more light, than three incandescent electric lights at a cost of 1 4-5 cents for three hours' lighting. See advertising pages.

THE FRANK BLAKE WEBSTER CO.

One of the most interesting spots in Hyde Park is the workshop and museum of Frank Blake Webster, the taxidermist. Natural history objects from museums in England, France, Germany, South America and Mexico, and from all the states in the Union, can be found there. A large collection has recently been prepared for the national museum in British Guiana. The collection contained animals and fish peculiar to the country and was exhibited at the World's Fair. In the workshop many hands are employed preparing specimens. An additional workshop and storage warehouse will soon be added and arrangements are being made for several foreign expeditions to supply the foreign and home demand. The company now occupies about 37,000 feet of land.
